DETAILED ACTION

Restriction/Election

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8, drawn to a securing apparatus, classified in class 361, subclass 801.
 - II. Claims 9-15, drawn to a module array, classified in class 361, subclass 825.
 - III. Claims 16-20, drawn to a method of controlling securement between two connectors, classified in class 705, subclass 55.
 - IV. Claims 21-25, drawn to an apparatus for securing a component, classified in class 369, subclass 30.42.
 - V. Claims 26-29, drawn to a disk array system, classified in class 361, subclass 685.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II, III and IV and V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as a securing apparatus not requiring the specific module array of group II, the method of controlling securement between two connectors of group III, the apparatus for securing a component of group IV and the disk array system of group V. Invention II has separate utility such as a module array not requiring the specific securing apparatus of group I or the method of controlling securement between two connectors of group III, the apparatus for securing a component of group IV and the disk array system of group V. Invention III has separate utility such as a method of controlling securement between two connectors not requiring the specific securing apparatus of group I or the module array of group II, the apparatus for securing a component of group IV and the disk array system of group V. Invention IV has separate utility such as an apparatus for securing a component not requiring the specific securing apparatus of group I or the module array of group II, the method of controlling securement between two connectors of group III and the disk array system of group Invention V has separate utility such as a disk array system not requiring the specific securing apparatus of group I or the module array of group II, the method of controlling securement between two connectors of group III and the apparatus for securing a component of group IV. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

2. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 2841

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
